Subject: Scope of Services for expedited technical assistance for farmer applicants to the Lake Decatur Watershed RCPP (2024-55)

About FarmRaise

Established in 2020, FarmRaise provides an innovative, first-in-class tool that connects growers with game-changing capital to invest in farmland soil health and sustainability. As an official USDA Cooperator, FarmRaise is adept at developing secure and streamlined digital tools for producers; today, we partner closely with USDA officials to deliver streamlined, digital modules that enable producers to access key Farm Service Agency funding programs. Our software has supported hundreds of growers in navigating and completing paperwork for FSA and NRCS conservation cost-share programs.

We pride ourselves on designing and developing software using a user-centric and grower-guided approach. No other grant administration and tracking software exists that has been built by and for growers directly. FarmRaise also leverages crucial partnerships with entities like the USDA and government cooperators to create a critical feedback loop between funders, government agencies and the growers they serve.

Scope of Work for Lake Decatur Watershed RCPP (2024-55)

FarmRaise will produce a digital, online module for use by prospective farmer applicants and RCPP program administrators to expedite the completion of USDA eligibility and program application paperwork. The module will be made freely available to all prospective growers and the administrators that are working with them. Additionally, FarmRaise will provide, as an in-kind contribution, free access through a free trial to other supportive software from FarmRaise, including the FarmRaise FSA records support module and Premium farm funding library. FarmRaise will conduct the build of the module in the first year of the RCPP and will maintain and improve the module in the subsequent years.
